This website contains class material for the class Econ 19 at the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA). The syllabus for the class is available here:

Syllabus. pdf / html

The only requirement is that you should read the following piece before classes start, which we shall discuss during Lecture 1:

Rosen, Sherwin. “The Economics of Superstars.” The American Scholar 52, no. 4 (1983): 449–60.

We will also do some “hands on” web scrapping in the class, during Week 2, in order to get a feel for the mathematics of the economics of superstars, and Pareto Distributions in particular. We will be using Google Sheets, as well as R Statistical Software. The instructions to download R statistical software are available below.

Intro to R. pdf / html

Finally, you will be presenting one paper, by groups of 2, during the last two lectures of the class. The list of papers is available below.
